2 – Builder is a foundational support formula designed to enhance the body's natural repair and rebuilding cycles. When paired with targeted products like B – Brain or K – Kidney, it boosts cellular receptivity and strengthens tissue integrity during rest and recovery. With key nutrients like allantoin and aloe, 2 – Builder supports digestion, improves amino acid assimilation, and promotes deep cellular rejuvenation. Ideal for use after exercise or cleansing, it amplifies the effects of other formulas while helping the body maintain balance, rebuild tissues, and sustain long-term vitality.

Health Indications

- Support the body's foundational repair systems to restore energy and resilience.
- Promote muscle and tissue repair after physical activity or cleanses.
- Aids in tissue or organ regeneration when paired with targeted support formulas.

Instructions

Take 3 capsules daily, or as directed by your health care professional.

Key Ingredients

RNA/DNA duodenal tissue factors

RNA/DNA duodenal tissue factors contribute to the function of 2 – Builder by supporting the duodenum's role in digestion and nutrient absorption, which is essential for cellular repair and tissue regeneration. By enhancing the body's ability to assimilate amino acids, these factors help strengthen the foundational processes of healing and rebuilding, making them especially valuable during recovery from exercise, detoxification, or periods of low vitality.

RNA/DNA stomach tissue factors

The RNA/DNA stomach tissue factors in 2 – Builder are included to support the stomach's vital role in digestion and nutrient distribution, helping to sustain cellular activity and promote tissue nourishment. Rooted in traditional Chinese and Ayurvedic medicine principles, these factors align with the Earth Element's focus on repair and balance, reinforcing the stomach's central function in the body's natural rebuilding and recovery processes.

Allantoin

Allantoin, a key component in 2 – Builder, supports deep cellular rejuvenation and tissue repair by promoting cell proliferation and reducing inflammation. Its ability to stimulate healthy tissue growth and enhance hydration makes it especially beneficial during recovery phases—such as post-exercise or post-detox—by helping the body rebuild and maintain resilient, youthful cellular function.

Aloe vera

Aloe vera enhances the effectiveness of 2 – Builder by supporting digestion, improving nutrient absorption, and optimizing cellular hydration—key factors in tissue repair and regeneration. Its anti-inflammatory and restorative properties help the body recover after stress or detoxification, while bioactive compounds like glucomannan and gibberellin promote cell growth and collagen synthesis to aid in healing and maintain vitality.

Warnings/Contraindications

2 – Builder should be avoided by individuals taking prescription MAO inhibitors, as it contains tyrosine, which may raise blood pressure when combined with these medications.
